We purchased this piano used around 30 years ago. It was last tuned about a 2 years ago. It comes with a bench. It has a number of bumps and scratches and one area on top right that someone put something wet there. It is dark color. As we are in an apt and no one is really using it any more I thought I would move it along to a new family. Again, it is not something to display for beauty but if you want something for your kids for free, here it is. We are older so will not be able to help with move.
It is a Milton Peter Pan from New York.
