This has been in the family for generations but the end has come! It is buried in the garage (but I'm clearing it out today!) so I apologize for the limited photos. It was painted decades ago; a dust rag will do wonders at cleaning it up! I am not musical so I cannot tell you anything about how it plays but it appears to be intact! Free to a good home; you haul. Located in the Serra Mesa neighborhood of San Diego, CA. In a garage; no stairs.
