

1916 Beckwith Upright Concert Grand Piano

This is a very stately looking Empire Revival style upright piano by the Beckwith Piano Company. It is made of quarter sawn oak which has a beautiful grain pattern. This piano has a very understated elegance to its design. It is out of tune, and in need of restoration. Consider this link to a restored Beckwith of the same type: <https://antiquepianoshop.com/product/beckwith-oak-empire-upright-piano/> There is a crack on top that looks as though it does not compromise its structural integrity.
